

I choose to pay for XM radio so that I don't have to put up with commercials and excess talk on conventional radio. It is my right to be able to use all channels that XM offers including traffic and weather channels. The NAB has no right to tell me what station I choose to listen to for this or any other programming. XM radio is a pay service just as cable TV is a pay service. Only the owners of the station has the right to determine its programming. I request that you make sure it stays that way. Thank you.
